RICHMOND HIGH PUPIL ENDS OWN LIFE

14 BODIES OF VICTIMS FOUND

CLARKSDALE, Miss., Feb. 25.

(U.P.)—The town of Duncan, 13 miles south of here, was virtually wiped off the map by a tornado which struck there late today, according to reports to the Southwestern Bell Telephone company. Early estimates of the dead ranged between 10 and 20 and those estimates were believed to be conservative. Injured were said to number between 30 and 50. Property damage in the town of 700 inhabitants probably will exceed $100,000.

Advices to the telephone company here said that all communications between Clarksville and Duncan were virtually obliterated.

An emergency hospital has been opened here to care for the injured, while physicians, ambulances and first aid equipment have been rushed into the stricken area.

The tornado was said to have swooped down on the town of Duncan and then to have lifted. No reports of any other similar damage had been received.

WOMAN HELD IN KIDNAPING OF CHILD MAPS TRIAL DEFENSE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—(U.P.)—Defense of Mrs. Edna Sharp, confessed kidnaper of little Doris Virginia Murphy, eleven days ago will be conducted without "sensationalism," her attorney announced here today.

The lawyer, Byron C. Parker, conferred with Mrs. Sharp in the county jail and then said they had decided definitely not to make a plea of insanity as excuse for the abduction.

The statement was taken to indicate that Mrs. Sharp would endeavor to make the facts that she returned baby Doris voluntarily and without injury of property, circumstances which the area were the charges of kidnapping and child stealing.

Several complaints against the two specific kidnappers were filed today by Mrs. Edward J. Murphy, mother of the girl who was missing for a week. Mrs. Sharp will be arraigned Wednesday in police court and an early trial date is expected.

Parker will undoubtedly claim that the major crime committed was the worry suffered by Doris' mother, Mrs. Sharp, contented as she was the girl to have a baby of her own and did not intend an offense punishable by a maximum prison term of 50 years.

CITY TO HELP BAY BARRIER PLANS

W. J. Buchanan, of Pittsburgh, chairman of the board of supervisors of this county, appeared before the city council last night and asked support of a new scheme for the construction of a bay barrier between Richmond and Martinez.

Richmond will be presented at the meeting by Mayor Mattie Chandler, Councilmen W. W. Scott and J. H. Hartnett and City Attorney T. M. Carlson.

Buchanan explained to the council that the legislative committee had completed its report which favored the bay barrier, and if this barrier was built it would provide an immense fresh water lake, and do away with the water trouble of the county not only for its cities but for industries as well.

Accompanying Buchanan were Otis Loveland and Editor Louis Meyer of the Pittsburgh Dispatch, and T. McCabe of the Pittsburgh Post.

Giosso Inquest Will Be Held Here Today

An inquest into the death of Tony Giosso who died at the City hospital as the result of a fire, believed to have been started in a still explosion near Pinole, will be held here today at 10 o'clock.

Albert Giosso, owner of a Pinole ranch where the explosion occurred, is believed to have occurred to free of $2,000 had waiting hearing before 14 members of the Pinole Grand Jury in Martinez to let it be charged with possession of parts of a still, which is a felony. Date for the hearing has not been set.

Giosso was brought to the Alameda County hospital several weeks ago, badly burned. He was accompanied by two men. While the injured man was being freed, the two men, tipped away.

Last week on receipt of a mysterious telephone call, Chief of Police Dan Cox and Capt. L. E. Jones went to the Giosso ranch near Pinole where they found the man in which Giosso was brought to the hospital.

Giosso is said to have told police that Giosso was burned by flaming gasoline. This story is doubted by the police.

BODY FOUND IN HOME AT HERCULES

An impulse of youth, fancied wrong, or misunderstanding so trivial that parents, teachers and schoolmates were unable to suggest what it might have been, stalked into the life of John Harsell, 18, Richmond Union high school pupil of Hercules yesterday shortly after noon and today his body lies in the local morgue awaiting funeral arrangements.

John left a note in the dining room where his mother and a neighbor, Mrs. J. W. Ingersoll, found the body at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, with an old fashioned small calibre rifle in one hand and a telltale bullet wound in the right temple.

Note Mystery
The note scrawled in a boyish hand failed to throw any light on the tragedy. It read:

"To whomsoever it may concern: "I killed myself because my heart was broken."

It was unsigned. It was believed that the boy may have been brooding over his

EAST SHORE PARK REZONED

The part left in the residential zone lies between Potrero avenue on the north and Cypress on the south, and Fifth and Collins, on the east and west.

The application for the change in zoning was made by the Richmond Terminal corporation. Councilman E. A. Martin thought the people of the Stege section were entitled to know what kind of industries were going to be located on the property, and whether or not they would be obnoxious to the residents.

The zoning ordinance was then read which provides that in zone No. 1 no industries that are obnoxious or that create much smoke or dust can be located.

"BLUE FRINT" CRUISERS

It would seem to the average observer that the arguments presented in congress for the elimination of the time clause in the fifteen cruiser bill are rather far-fetched. Either we need the fifteen cruisers for defensive purposes or we do not need them. Now it is generally conceded by everyone who has studied the situation, that we do need these cruisers to make our navy an efficient arm of our defensive establishment. Therefore if congress believes the cruisers needed, congress should take the responsibility of ordering them built. They will do us no good as "blue print" cruisers. They will have to be constructed of steel before they will go very far toward helping the United States in time of difficulty.

The proposal that the time clause be eliminated and that the building of the cruisers be held up until after the 1931 naval conference, as a sort of "ace up the sleeve" in the battle with European diplomats is decidedly illogical.

In the first place a great many European authorities, especially in Great Britain, believe that we are bluffing in proposing to build these fifteen cruisers. Now if congress eliminates the time clause and we have nothing but blue prints to go into the 1931 conference with, then these European diplomats will have some basis for thinking that our navy program is nothing more or less than a bluff. This will make it harder than ever for us to get any kind of a satisfactory agreement for disarmament or for getting an agreement about the rights of neutrals on the high seas in time of war. But if, on the other hand, we have these fifteen cruisers in actual process of construction, it will readily be seen that our proposal to strengthen our navy is no bluff.

The argument is advanced that in such case we might have to scrap these partly built cruisers and that this would cost the taxpayers a lot of money. Nothing of the sort. These fifteen cruisers will have to be built no matter what sort of agreement is entered into in 1931. They are not competitive ships, but ships needed for our actual defense. Surely we will not agree in any conference to take an inferior position to any other country in the matter of naval strength. And if we do not take such position we will have to build the fifteen cruisers and then perhaps some more. We cannot count on the supposition that Great Britain and other powers will dismantle good ships already sailing the seas. Only Uncle Sam is idealistic enough to do a thing like that and his action along that line in 1921 was not appreciated by the other naval powers, who immediately took advantage of our action to strengthen their own navies until we now threaten to become the fourth or fifth naval power in cruiser strength.

The sensible thing to do is to authorize the cruisers and have them building before 1931. We will need them anyhow, no matter what happens in the 1931 conference, and they will clear the atmosphere and convince the European diplomats that we mean business. Going into conference with fifteen sets of blue prints might rightfully be regarded as a cheap bluff.

A number of European scientists have started on an expedition to find a lost world. When they discover it you can bet the first thing the lost world will do will be to float a loan in the United States.

Now that the Florida real estate boom has died down, we don't see why some enterprising Yankee real estate firm doesn't plat the Sahara desert and sell lots on the slogan "plenty of parking space."

Prof. Einstein has now announced a new theory which a lot of people are trying to understand. For our part we are willing to take his word for it.

Maybe some of our pacifists who are so sure Europe will never start trouble with us again would like to offer themselves as hostages on the proposition.

RICHMOND CLUB MEMBERS SEE PREVIEW OF PICTURE, PROGRAM DEALS WITH MAKING OF FILMS

The meeting of Richmond club yesterday, arranged by Mrs. George Locks, local member and county chairman of motion pictures, was one of unusual interest and value.

The clubwomen and guests assembled first at the Richmond theater at 10 o'clock, when through the courtesy of A. V. Brady, manager of the theater, a preview of the picture "Restless Youth" was shown. The cooperation of Brady was greatly appreciated by the club and a program of music accompanied the picture.

"Restless Youth," chosen as an average picture was the film selected for the preview, which the clubwomen were asked to criticize and censor for objectionable scenes.

Following the picture, the clubwomen adjourned to the Caribbea hotel for luncheon after which the regular meeting of the organization was held at the Richmond clubhouse, with addresses, discussions and program numbers.

A feature of the afternoon program was the demonstration of the new Kodacolor, product of the Eastman Kodak company by E. J. Fisher, representative of the company. This arrangement has been made through the courtesy of Fred LaMoine. Fisher explained the new film for taking pictures in natural colors and showed a reel taken in every known color.

Mrs. Walter McGinn, representative of the Allied Amusement company, made the address of the afternoon in which she told of the progress of pictures, the transition of ideas, the motion picture producer endeavoring to present life as it is, the censorship of films and the desire of producers to provide the best. Mrs. McGinn told of the difficulty the producers have in constructing a thousand pictures a year from the 34 scenic spots. The speaker explained the matter of censorship of films dealing with Italian, French, German or other nationality and how the definite scenes are shown to the foreign consuls for their approval or rejection. She explained also that the difficulty is far greater in deleting portions of talking pictures than previously, and sketched the mechanism.

The motion picture weeklies, she pointed out, do not show the sensational news, such as murder trials, but demand only healthy, normal things, but when it comes to pictures they feel it must be of dramatic value with a lesson back of it.

Mrs. A. B. Armstrong, Alameda district chairman of motion pictures and Mrs. Condon, Alameda county chairman were present and spoke briefly.

A discussion of the picture viewed in the morning followed, in which all took part.

Mrs. E. C. Wiest, Contra Costa county president was in attendance accompanied by Mrs. Roy Halverson president of the Danish Rudolph Frim program will be presented, under the direction of Mrs. Lee Dickey, Mrs. E. C. C. MAPS WAR ON RAILROAD RATES

Declaring that Richmond is entitled to a fair rate to the northwest, the Richmond Chamber of Commerce announced yesterday that the battle will be carried before the Interstate Commerce at its meeting in Portland.

In all probability a special committee made up of Fred D. Parr, Frank Chandler and City Attorney Thomas M. Carlson will go to Portland personally to attend the meeting of the commission in March.

Preliminary meetings of the three men have been held and conferences have been had with Southern Pacific officials to map out a program, and a report will be made at the meeting of the directors of the chamber at Hotel Carquinez tomorrow.

The city council also has discussed the matter with the possible plan of having Carlson go to Portland to the hearing of the Interstate Commerce Commission as the city's official representative, but no action has been taken and none will be until further discussion has been had by the chamber directors at Wednesday's meeting, it was announced.

Naming of a special committee detailed discussion of the rate problem at the last meeting of the chamber at which it was disclosed that Richmond suffers the disadvantage of a serious differential in comparison with other bay cities on rail shipments and other points in the northwest. The Southern Pacific is asking the commission for a reduction in rates from San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda to permit competition with waterborne commerce, but Richmond has not been included in the list on the ground that it is not officially a port of call for the line, competing cars wise.

P. M. S. president of the chamber announced that the city will make a determined fight to wipe out the differential and put Richmond on the same basis as other bay cities. It is expected that the committee of three will go to Portland with this object.

CHAPLIN HIT BY POISON AT STUDIO

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 25.—(UP)—Charlie Chaplin, famous screen comedian, was reported seriously ill of poison on a routine at his home here tonight.

As Chaplin prepared to leave for his studio he suffered a dizzy spell and fell to the floor. His personal physician, Dr. Cecil Reynolds, answered an urgent call and ordered the comedian to bed for at least five days.

While Chaplin's illness was believed to have been caused by poison it was thought possible that he was suffering from appendicitis.

Officials at the Chaplin studio said that the actor has been bothered by his appendix for a number of years, but had refused advice of several physicians to undergo an operation for its removal.

Dr. Reynolds ordered Chaplin to rest completely during the five days. The comedian said that even if the poisoning trouble did not become more serious, he would keep the comedian under observation.

While he described Chaplin's condition as serious, Dr. Reynolds said he was not at all doubtful that the actor would recover.

When Chaplin felt the dizziness coming on he asked for a glass of water, then dropped out of the window. He was about to accept a lift from a car when he was carried to the hospital. He was carried to the hospital by a car.

All work on Chaplin's new picture, "The Dictator," has been halted indefinitely and the emergency of his condition has been a situation of sleeping would be caused by a comedian's condition.

MYSTERY SHOT REPORTED BY JACK SOUNDS LIKE BALLYHOO

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 25.—(UP)—Jack Dempsey, boxing champion, reported a mysterious shot at him was a poor mark man and had a faint heart.

Dempsey and Floyd Fitzsimmons, fight promoter, reported they found an intruder in their room at the home of Harry Moir, owner of the Morrison Hotel, Chicago, early today. When Dempsey started in pursuit of him the visitor fired a single shot at the former heavyweight champion.

Dempsey and Fitzsimmons said, but apparently faked around the Moir mansion for a half hour in hopes that Dempsey would come out. For that half hour Dempsey and Fitzsimmons described themselves as prisoners in their room which had no telephone connection. They were unarmed. Only when they saw an automobile, parked across the street flash a light as if to signal and then a few minutes later two men drove away, did they feel safe to leave the room.

No One Heard Shot
No one else in the house seemed to have heard the shot. Dempsey did not report the affair to Miami Beach police until nearly noon.

"I wanted to keep it quiet," he said. "There was nothing to do about it."

"I had gone to bed about midnight. There were two beds in the room. Fitzsimmons had the one near the wall and I had the other."

"A Little Chap"
"About 2 o'clock I woke up and there was a fellow in the room. He was a little chap. I don't think he was more than five feet two. He ordered me to turn on the light. I did and he shouted 'come on, Joe' and I jumped out of bed. He started out the door and I slammed it shut and then ran round through the back room and into the hall. When I was at the head of the stairs I could see the fellow going out through a window. Just then he shot. The bullet missed and hit the wall about four feet from the floor."

"I didn't have any gun or anything else and when he began to shoot I beat it back to the room and stayed there. About half an hour later Fitzsimmons and I saw some light flash on a car parked across the street and then two men drove away."

Didn't Want Money
"I don't know what it was about but the fellow didn't seem to want money. He didn't demand anything and he didn't take any of the money that was on the dresser. All I can think is that he might have thought he could 'take me for a ride.'"

Fitzsimmons' account of the affair was much more picturesque and detailed.

"All I can figure is that he was going to kidnap Jack and either beat him or maybe kill him or get ransom out of him somehow," the promoter said.

LINDY REFUSES TO TELL DATE OF MARRIAGE

CUERNAVACA, Mexico, Feb. 25.—(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was visiting his fiancée tonight for the first time since the announcement of his engagement to Miss Anne Spencer Morrow, and he plainly indicated that he was quite willing to let the world aviation included drift along outside the romantic hills of Cuernavaca for a few days, at least.

Plainly enjoying his visit at the beautiful home of his fiancée's father, Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, Lindbergh waved all personal questions away with a word about "ask that one a little later." By "a little later" he apparently meant a few days later, indicating that he was not going to worry about anything but having a good time during his visit.

Meanwhile speculation as to the date of the marriage continued unabated. Lindbergh declining to discuss "until later" the persistent rumors that they might be married here or at Mexico City during the flier's present visit. This rumor was spurred by the fact that Lindbergh arrived at Valbuena field at dusk last night in a four passenger plane, which would be suitable for an aerial honeymoon.

Wedding Soon
It was said authoritatively tonight, however, that the Lindbergh-Morrow nuptials will be announced in a proper manner and "in due time." This statement was made at the request of newspapermen to dissipate reports that the wedding might occur unexpectedly.

Lindbergh and Miss Morrow went for a long motor ride in the hills outside the city this morning.

Later the flier expressed his idea of Mexico by saying: "It is a wonderful country, which one enjoys more with each visit."

The expression, unusual for the reticent Lindbergh, was not of a personal nature, he explained with a smile.

Lindy Happy
Lindbergh was in a happy mood, smiling more broadly each time a question as to his future plans was repeated. If he knows the date of his wedding, he kept it a close secret with repeated replies of "ask me that a little later."

The slim, blond aviator talked to newspapermen in the handsome gardens of the Morrow home. As the correspondents entered, Mrs. Morrow and her daughters, Anne and Elizabeth, retired to the observatory above the home. Elizabeth returned here late afternoon. Morrow returned to the capital this morning.

Although Lindbergh indicated he might have an announcement to make within a few days, he declined to interpret his own statement as meaning his plans were not yet settled.

You can interpret this exactly as I say it," he declared.

Makes Auto Trip
Lindbergh arrived here late last night, after a trip from the capital by automobile.

Two carloads of newspapermen, enroute from the capital to Cuernavaca this morning, met Ambassador Morrow and Alan Dawson.

Lindbergh arrived here late last night after a trip from the capital by automobile.

Two carloads of newspapermen, enroute from the capital to Cuernavaca this morning, met Ambassador Morrow and Alan Dawson, embassy secretary, motoring to the capital. Morrow plainly indicated that no "surprise wedding" would take place during the present visit.

Morrow Silent
The ambassador's automobile was halted and he was asked if any plans had been made.

"Plans for what?" asked the ambassador.

"Why, plans for the wedding?" "Neither Lindbergh nor the Morrows have anything to say," was the reply. "You fellows are wasting your time. I'll be pleased to see you this afternoon, but I won't have any information."
